

The People's Column

It is a mistake if the impression is received by the people of Bryan that the city commission is opposed to the idea of an airport. That is not the case, judging from the expression of the various members.

The action taken by the commission when the matter of cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce was brought up was based, primarily, on the opinion of the city attorney that the city could not spend money for the purchase of land without the city limits without amending the charter, which would mean taking the proposition to the people.

In addition to this reason, members of the city commission are faced with demands for additional paving and for sewer and water extensions, which they feel should take precedence over an airport, if there is not money enough available to finance both.

So far as favoring an airport, the commission is in favor of this improvement, but at the present time feels that its hands are tied, not only by legal limitations but by lack of money with which to finance both this and other improvements which are vital to the growth and development of the city.

GOOD CHEER STARTS DRIVE ON THURSDAY

$2,000 WILL BE SOUGHT BY COMMITTEES OF MEN AND WOMEN

All plans have been made for the opening of the drive Thursday morning by special committees for the $2,000 deemed necessary to carry on the work of the Bryan and Brazos County Good Cheer Association during the coming year.

Committees of men, two to the block, will canvass the business section of the city. These have been named and assigned by Judge H. O. Ferguson, chairman of the finance committee. Committees of women, named by Mrs. J. L. Brock, president of the Good Cheer, will canvass the residence sections. The city has been divided into four sections and each one has been placed in charge of a committee.

Officers of the Good Cheer, who have carefully canvassed the situation, estimate that at least $2,000 or more than ever has been raised, will be necessary to carry on the work of the association for the year. Demands for aid are heavier and more frequent than ordinarily, due to crop conditions, and these demands are expected to continue, in the opinion of association officials.

Find Woman Dead In County Jail; Alleged Insane

Sheriff J. H. Reed found one of his prisoners, a negro lodged in the county jail during the night on the ground that she was insane, dead in her cell this morning. The woman, whose name is not known to the authorities and whose age is thought to have been about 40 years, died sometime between 5 and 7 o'clock this morning.

Sheriff Reed returned from Fort Worth by train last night and when he arrived here was told by Officer Cheatham that he had put a negro woman in jail, who had been sent into town by G. P. Davis of Navasota, who farms in Brazos county, by one of his hands. With the woman was a note stating she was crazy but no name was given. The woman's hands were tied together.

When the sheriff and Mrs. Reed reached the jail, about 5 o'clock, they could hear the woman talking and crying. They retired for a short time and when the sheriff made his rounds this morning about 7:30 he found the woman dead.

The cause of death has not been determined but it is believed the woman suffered an attack of heart disease.

Many State Offices Are Expected To Attract Horde of Candidates; Bryanite Talked for Miller's Seat

BY R. W. BARRY, Associated Press Staff Writer.

AUSTIN, Dec. 11.—While the impending gubernatorial campaign with its big field of prospective candidates had been occupying the limelight, the politically ambitious have not been overlooking a few opportunities on the side. There are a number of other state officials who offer splendid opportunity for advancement to be filled.

The lieutenant governorship so far has attracted two avowed candidates, while several are contenting wetting their feet in the campaign waters. J. D. Parnell of Wichita Falls, formerly state senator, and W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock, likewise a former member of the senate, have definitely announced their candidacies. Parnell was in the race last time when Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller of Dallas was sent back by his third term.

Other likely candidates are Representative Ray Holder of Lancaster, W. S. Barron of Bryan, now speaker of the house of representatives, and Senators Edgar Witt of Waco and Tom Pollard of Tyler.

Senator Witt has been busy the past few weeks as a member of the prison centralization commission, and the word "busy" is used advisedly, because the earnest Wacoan probably saw as much and asked as many questions as any

Drop Poll Tax For Bryan City; Not Now Needed

The payment of poll tax by the male voters of Bryan is now a thing of the past according to an announcement made at the city hall this morning. The city commission has decided that the city has progressed to the point where this payment of $1 per head by all male voters within the age limits prescribed by law is no longer necessary.

Last year the city finally did away with the street tax, based on the old statute that every male resident between the ages of 31 and 45 years should either do three days work each year on the streets or pay in money at the rate of $1 per day for the three days.

The poll tax still will be collected by the county and state but no city poll tax payment and receipt will be required henceforth as a qualification for voting in city elections.

member of that commission when it went on its trip of inspection to penitentiaries of a large number of the states of the Union.

As a result of his keen interest he was designated to write the majority report for the commission and the task kept him thinking of nothing else for quite a season.

He has been asked by numerous persons to become a candidate for lieutenant governor and he is seriously considering the matter. Representative Holder has not definitely made up his mind and offered to surrender all claim to the office if his friend, Speaker Barron, would announce. Speaker Barron thereupon told friends that he might decide to become a candidate, but later he was asked by some to enter the gubernatorial field, and it is problematical what his decision will be. Senator Pollard is reticent about his plans.

There are three candidates for attorney general, not counting Attorney General Robert Lee Bobbitt, who, if he does not run for (Continued on page 2)

SMUGGLE GUNS INSIDE WALLS, SAY OFFICERS

Attack Rioters Near Noon; Armed With Tear Bombs

(By Associated Press)

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Armed with guns smuggled into the prison from outside the walls, according to prison officials, approximately 1,580 convicts in the Auburn state prison revolted today, shot down the principal keeper, George Durnford, seized Warden Jennings and several other keepers and held them as hostages for the release of about 12 ring leaders of the mutiny.

State troopers and units of the national guard were summoned out.

"We have guns trained on Jennings and 12 guards" said a message from the ring leader.

Captain McGrath of the state troopers led a detachment of troops armed with tear gas bombs into the prison about noon.

Jennings and four guards were rescued later by a picked squad of state troopers.

One convict was reported killed during the attack.

Then the convicts prepared to make a last desperate stand in the main hall, while troopers and national guardsmen armed with tear gas bombs and machine guns prepared to rush the barricades in the few hours remaining before darkness.

First State Bank & Trust Company Will Move Into New Home This Afternoon

BUILDING IS BEAUTIFUL IN ARCHITECTURE

Equipment Latest in Type Throughout Structure

STONE AND MARBLE

Lend Both Dignity And Permanence To Building

Tonight, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., the new home of the First State Bank and Trust Company, erected on the site purchased five years ago from Mrs. Thelma Hinkle and J. W. Goble and on which the first stone of the bank was laid this past summer to make way for the new structure, will be formally opened to the public of Bryan and Brazos counties. A general invitation to the entire community has been extended through the press, rather than by attempting to call out individual invitations, and everyone interested in inspecting a new and modern building will be made welcome.

Tomorrow morning the bank officials and employees will welcome their patrons and customers and the public to the new home. The transfer of the bank books and other paraphernalia will be made tonight and everything will be shipshape for the operation and transference of business Friday morning.

The new home, which extends from Main Street to Bryan Avenue on Fifth Street, with a frontage on both Main and Bryan of 60 feet, is a beautifully constructed stone building of Renaissance architecture. The foundations are of Carthage stone, brought from the famous quarries of that name in Missouri, and the walls are of the nationally known Bedford stone, quarried in Indiana. The building is two stories in height, the first floor ceiling being exceptionally high, and while some residents have wondered why several additional stories were not included in the building, the answer has been made that always it will be known by its very appearance, as the home of a banking house and nothing else.

The walls of the building have been beautifully laid and over the doors and windows are panels of fine carving in the stone from which the building is formed. At the top of the sidewalk, on the three sides of the building and just below the roof line, the name of the bank is inscribed in deeply carved letters—inscriptions that will last as long as the walls shall stand.

The bank has been designed with three entrances. One is on Main, one on Bryan and one on 25th Street. Each entrance opens into a spacious lobby, on the south side of the building, which runs through the building, affording a maximum amount of space for patrons and customers.

The lobby is finished with a Tennessee floor as are the quarters of the officers of the bank. For greater ease and comfort, the work rooms and corridors are floored with Battledis linoleum and rubber tile.

In the main floor are open and closed offices for the officers of the bank and two rooms for the use of customers, where they may go to transact business while in town or in the bank and where they will be assured privacy if this is desired. Above the lobby is a mezzanine floor, with a beautiful grill work guarding it and off of which is the director's room.

The working space in the bank is enclosed by marble and plate glass and there are enough windows to give the best possible service without undue delay.

The bank is equipped with four vaults. One of these is divided into two sections by a strong bar article grill. One section is used for money sales and the other for the lock boxes of customers. This vault is equipped with a 100-ton automatic time lock door. In the customers lock box room are more than 600 boxes, each with a double lock equipment.

Other rooms on the first floor and in the basement are for the library, filing, storage and janitor.

Farming Is Business
Speaking over the radio some days ago, John E. Campbell of Montana, the world's most extensive farmer, said, among other things: "Farming is the most profitable business in the world, if it is conducted as a business." Mr. Campbell declared that the future for farming, as a result of present government aid through the Farm Relief Act and the general attitude of business interests, brighter than ever before in the history of the world. Mr. Campbell is correct in his prediction of the future of farming, this many of us need to check up on our business methods used in our farming enterprise. Maybe we can be one of our readers.

The Rye 4-H Club is the first club in the county to recognize the next year's activities. Already the Rye Club is setting an example, the first one being the purchase of a farm level for the community. All right, Tabor, Kirtland, Slocum, King's Highway, Slocum's Store and other clubs of the county, what is your objective for next year? The Rye club is far ahead of the pack in definite objectives. Several club boys are going to see whether it is possible to produce a hundred bushels of corn per acre on Slocum Valley land. The county agent declared it could be done.

Sex Farming Plan
In speaking before the farmers' union at Slocum on Monday night, L. E. Moore of St. Paul, Minnesota, said that any farmer who will put as much time and attention to farming as the business man manages his business, he can not help but succeed. He stated that the many years he was a farmer, having to work 18 hours a day to make a success, but that he would not think about giving up the life on the farm to return to such a strenuous life as he had to live as a banker. Mr. Moore urged the Slocum farmers to diversify, raise crops, and use the facilities of the great A. and M. College right here at their very doors. Those attending the Slocum meeting were: Lynn Slocum, Will M. Jones, P. H. Haddock, and County Agent Benson. Mr. Haddock speaking in the interest of the home industry in Brazos county.

Sells Peanut Candy
Miss Betty Hinkley, a club girl of Slocum, is making quite a success with her peanut candy. During the last ten days she has received orders for 25 pounds of candy and more orders are coming in daily. She has just shipped a nice order to a San Antonio store and is preparing more for the same concern and a local store. She is also selling quite a lot of individuals for Christmas gifts. She is making three different varieties of peanut dipped peanuts, the 4-H peanut mints, spread peanuts and orange caramels. They are the first and second stories are equipped with Venetian blinds.

The lighting effects of the building installed by C. E. Grieser of Bryan, have been effectively worked out. Both beauty and illumination have been considered in both fixtures and arrangement. The lobby is lighted by four fixtures of cast bronze and beautifully designed, that carry 25 lamps each. Each of these fixtures weighs 150 pounds. Outside the bank, on either side of the three entrances, are bronze brackets, of attractive design. Each of these weighs 75 pounds and carries a number of lamps. The cages are illuminated by the latest type units, specially designed. In the entire lighting of the bank proper 240 globes have been used, nearly one mile of metal conduit and approximately three miles of wire of varying sizes. The consumption of current, when all lights are on, is 21 kilowatts per hour, or enough electricity to run the average home 20 hours or 21 homes for one hour each.

The electrical equipment of the bank is controlled from two metering boards, of a new type here, and except for the switch board at the city power plant, the most complicated in the city. These boards permit any number or combination of offices in the same meter and without any wire changes. The meter boards are located on the second floor of the bank.

The finishing touch to the beauty of the bank is found in the ceiling, which is in a color scheme of buff and light green. The ceiling, finished in plaster, is of beamed effect and each panel is delicately modeled in raised design, which is outlined in the light green. The color of the color combination are soft and attractive and especially so when the building is artificially lighted, though they are calculated to give a sensation of coolness on the hottest of Texas days.

The club girls of the Rye 4-H Club, under the leadership of Mrs. E. E. Hinkley, are preparing for the coming year. They will be holding a meeting on Thursday night, Dec. 12, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. E. E. Hinkley. The Houston fans will have the privilege to watch the champion heavyweight wrestler of the world in action. Dick Schikat is on the wrestling card along with Rudy Dusek for a finish match at the city auditorium tomorrow night. After watching this new champion in action they will then be able to determine if he is qualified to hold the exalted position in the wrestling game he now enjoys. Sandow, Ed Lewis' manager, says Schikat is a quitter and a lot of other things. This is all bunk. Lewis had a chance to wrestle the new champion and get a whole lot of iron men to boot. Did he accept this offer, if he did there is no record of it. Fabanni posted $50,000 and still Lewis and Sandow were silent. If Lewis and Sonnenberg are such good men why don't they accept the challenges that have been thrown in their faces by big boy Schikat.

Knute Rockne is going out on the coast next year during the summer and open up one of his celebrated coaching schools at the Oregon State College at Covallis, Oregon.

The action of Phil Scott, the London firefighter, will not help the fight game. However, he has that right of winning on a foul. Von Porat him a little low with a blow that would not have hurt a kid and Scott put up a show all his own, and of course Jack Dempsey, who was the third man in the ring could do nothing but award the fight to Scott on a foul. Von Porat had the edge on the Englishman and was carrying the fight to him, and Scott was backstepping around the ring when the unfortunate blow was landed and he took the easiest way out.

They put a set up before Art Shires and he whipped this set up every way a farmer can whip a mule and it only took him eleven seconds to accomplish it. Shires in his first bout showed the fans that he has a nasty left that won him a lot of fame at Lena Blackburne's expense.

and is ranked on the alternate team. Other tackles in the conference have flared up momentarily but their play has not been consistent enough to laud.

The two guard positions are well filled with "Choc" Sanders, S. M. U.'s last year All American and captain; and Koch of Baylor. Koch was out of two games but his play featured the remainder of the games on the Bear schedule. Captain Jones of Rice and Beaty of Texas are ranked next.

Noble Atkins of T. C. U. is placed at center. Powell, the strong-pivot man, is possibly the strongest center in the conference but he was out most of the conference season on a knee injury. Atkins is a good smart passer and a great defensive man. Paradeaux of Baylor is possibly a better center than Burnett of Texas. Both are good and would have received more consideration had they been on winning teams.

An picking the backfield one could get any combination out of the first eight outstanding backs and have possibly as strong a backfield as any other one you could select. I pick Grubbs of T. C. U. at quarter because it was the head-work, the passing and running of this man that gave T. C. U. the championship. I think that he is the most valuable man to his team in the conference. As an alternate quarter I give the position to Rees of Texas, after I give the brilliant Tommy Mills, the Aggie backfield ace, the position of fullback on the first eleven.

It seems hard to leave Leland, the T. C. U. speed merchant, off the first string backfield after he won the Texas and A. & M. games for the Frogs by his long sprints. Leland relies entirely on his speed. There is no doubt that he is a big threat for any man with his speed would be a threat. But he does not come up to the standard set by Wilson of Baylor or Mason of S. M. U., both of whom are great passers, pass receivers, punters and defensive men. Leland may come up to the defense of the Baylor star but he is not the all around star that Wilson is. Mason is the strongest defensive back in the conference as well as being the Ponies offensive threat. His touch-down beat A. & M. His defensive work staved off a defeat at the hands of the Texas Longhorns and it was his touch-down that kept the Frogs from beating the Ponies. He was not stopped all season and neither was Wilson. Leland was stopped cold by the Ponies. Shelley started off for a brilliant season but his play does not class with that of Mills who was shifted to fullback. Mills was the big run in every game that the Aggies played and had to carry the offensive burden nearly entirely on his shoulders. He beat Texas University nearly single handed. Mills is not the typical fullback but he has to be worked into the first string lineup and that position is the only one left.

Kattman of S. M. U. is one of the best defensive backs in the loop. He has outkicked all the touted punters that he has kicked against. He is a good passer and is on a par with any runner in the conference with the exception of the first four backs mentioned. He received passes with uncanny ability all season. Therefore Kattman receives the remaining position on the alternate team.

This selection was unprejudiced and each player received his position on my team from the angle I saw him perform.

Cavitt Makes Report To Chamber of Commerce

BETTER RECORD MADE

On First Collection Of Cream Than At Cuero

There will be no extensions of the corporate limits of Bryan before the 1930 census, according to the report made this morning to the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce by F. L. Cavitt, chairman of the city development committee. Mr. Cavitt stated he appeared before the Bryan city commission in regard to this and the commission stated that no plans along this line were contemplated.

The question of an airport for Bryan also was brought up before the city commission at this time, said Mr. Cavitt. He stated he suggested to the commission that the city and the Chamber of Commerce finance the purchase of land that might be approved by government officials and that the city finance the operation and maintenance of the port. The city commission decided, Mr. Cavitt reported, that this matter could not be handled without making a bond issue and that this was not deemed practicable at this time.

"A better start was made here Monday, on the first collection trip over Brazos county cream route No. 1," said J. Webb Howell, "than was made on the first trip at Cuero, which has developed into a great dairy products center."

A report on the trip was made by E. E. Yeager, chairman of the trade extension committee, who is furnishing a truck at operating cost for this work, to the effect that the 102 pounds of cream brought in sold at an approximate price of $50. For the time being, he said, two trips will be made each week.

A report was made of Brazos county chickens sent to the East Texas Poultry Show at Palestine. Rev. Frank Urbanosky of St. Joseph's Catholic church was welcomed as a new member of the organization.

Those present were: N. B. Allen, Wilson Bradley, F. L. Cavitt, H. O. Ferguson, J. Webb Howell, J. D. Martin, M. F. Vitopil and E. E. Yeager.

Quilts Are Sold Before Finished By Church Women

Mrs. Bob Martin and her mother, Mrs. Jennie Pico, were joint hostesses on Monday for the all-day meeting of the West Side Circle of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Christian church. The home on Beck street was attractive in a setting of fresh flowers and ferns in honor of the day, and at 10 o'clock the circle members found a cordial welcome awaiting them.

The circle members put in a quilt and began promptly at quilting, as the quilt was already sold before it was made, which was an incentive for good work. Mrs. Jennie Pico, a life-long member of the First Christian church of Bryan, took this occasion to donate to the West Side circle two quilts, made by her for them during the past month. As Mrs. Pico is in her 84th year the "work of her hand" was greatly appreciated by the members of the circle and she was assured of the deep gratitude of all for her gift. Mrs. Bob Martin also donated a quilt to the society.

At noon luncheon was served and a social hour spent around the luncheon table. A short business session followed in the afternoon with Mrs. J. E. Dishman, chairman, conducting the session. Roll call by the secretary Mrs. Joe Dickerson, and the payment of dues were included in the afternoon hour. A closing prayer by Mrs. G. E. Adams, concluded the program of the most delightful day. The number present included eleven members and nine visitors.

The January meeting of West Side Circle will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Barton, 4111 West 24th Street.

Much Drilling For Oil Going On in Section

C. W. Strance, field geologist for the Lone Star Gas Company, was in Bryan today and while here conferred with several Bryan citizens, who have leases for oil drilling on Brazos, Grimes and Burleson county lands.

If there is oil or gas in Brazos and adjoining counties it should be discovered as there is at present much prospecting going on. A test well drilled on the W. A. Boyett farm in Burleson county proved some possibilities; a night and day shift is now drilling a well on the old Westbrook farm in Robertson county near the I. & G. N. tracks south of Valley Junction; on the highway between Port Sullivan and Cameron a well is being drilled, and on the highway between Rogers and Temple a crew is drilling a well for oil.

PLAN BOUNTY TO RUN HIGH AS $50 HEAD

Stockmen To Meet On Friday To Perfect Organization

STOCK WORTH $5,000

Estimated Killed This Year In Boyett's District

Depredations of wolves in herds and flocks of Brazos county, especially in the districts represented by County Commissioners Guy F. Boyett and Emmett Holland, have become so heavy that an appeal has been made by stockmen to the county to aid them in stamping out the animals.

The commissioners, after going into the matter, decided today to offer a bounty of as high as $25 per head for full grown wolves, if the stockmen would put up a similar amount. A bounty of $5 will be paid for pups.

According to Commissioner Boyett cattle, calves and sheep of an approximate value of $5,000 have been killed by wolves in his section of the county this year. Commissioner Holland says the damage wrought in his section has not been so heavy this year, but that stock has been killed although he could not make any estimate of the value.

The cattlemen and other stock raisers have been called to attend a meeting Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock to be staged in the district court room, at which time an effort will be made to perfect an organization, work out a plan of assessment and decide on what bounty should be paid in order that the total bounty to be paid by both stockmen and the county may be determined.

Stockmen who are interested in aid from the county and who are behind the movement for organization meeting Saturday are: Knox Williams, Walter Smith, J. Barker Eddie Allen, Sam Cavitt, Tom Closs, W. A. Boyett, Albert and Charles Payne, Henry Kootz, Henry Seale, Grady Hanover, Grant and Sam McDonald.

According to Commissioner Boyett, more than a score of wolves have been killed in his district this year and most of them, he said, were as large as a good sized Shepherd dog. Several of these wolves, it is said, will kill 40 or 50 sheep in a night and some stockmen of the county have ceased trying to raise either sheep or goats because of the depredations of the wolves.

Word from Helds Is Good News; Hurts Not Serious

Bryan friends have received word from Dr. Jno. A. Held and family of Waco, who were injured in an auto accident, while quite painfully are not seriously hurt.

Suffering with a broken arm and a lacerated forehead in the hospital is Mrs. E. C. Hardie, Greenville, mother of Mrs. John A. Held, who is quite seriously injured, and because of her age, 89, is given only a slight chance for recovery.

When their automobile, occupied by Dr. and Mrs. John A. Held as well as Mrs. Hardie was forced into a ditch by the drunken driver of another car about three miles out of Waco on the Mexia-Waco highway Thursday night all three of the passengers were injured.

Dr. Held received a broken rib and a bruised leg in the accident but he is up and about again, while Mrs. Held who is suffering from the shock with no serious injuries is still in bed.

Dr. Held took the number of the car but when the license was traced down it was found to belong to an automobile of a different make from the one which figured in the accident. It is not believed that the driver of the car will be found.

BRAZOS COUNTY CLUBBER FINDS CHICAGO COLD

A card from Alphonse Habarta to County Agent C. L. Beason says: "I am in Chicago and having a great time. It is 30 below zero and still snowing. We are putting up at the LaSalle Hotel." Alphonse evidently means it is 30 below freezing instead of 30 below zero. Anyway, it is cold. Same back to you, Alphonse.

COW AND CHICKENS KEEP WOLF FROM THIS FAMILY

COLORADO, Dec. 10.—Cows and chickens are providing a steady monthly income for Mr. and Mrs. Mark Reidenbach, who live near Valley View, Mitchell county.

For the past ten months they have been milking three cows and have about 75 hens. The sales of butter, eggs, chickens and calves have amounted to $459.04.

Work of Good Cheer Divided Into Divisions; 14 Families Are Aided Each Month—Others as Necessary

Mrs. J. L. Brock, chairman of the committee which handles the affairs of the Good Cheer organization and which supervises the expenditure of all funds allotted to public charity work in Bryan and Brazos county, has divided the activities of that organization into four divisions as follows:

Families receiving regular assistance; families receiving occasional assistance; transients and emergency cases, and hospital cases.

The average citizen who supports with cash contribution or with personal effort, the work of the Good Cheer, will be able to better appraise the service rendered through Mrs. Brock and her associates, through a statement made by Mrs. Brock which summarizes the work for 1929 as follows:

Fourteen local families receive assistance every month; to these food is always provided and other necessities as the circumstances may require. Ten families, mostly those whose support depends upon a widowed mother and ranging in size from 2 to 5 members, receive temporary assistance when illness or lack of employment makes some such course imperative. Employment for the mother and for other members of such families is frequently secured through the efforts of the Good Cheer committee.

A nominal per cent of the local fund is disbursed yearly in the relief of transient medicants or unfortunates. Every case referred to the Good Cheer committee in this division receives personal attention and is thoroughly investigated. Where the applicant is found to be worthy, food and shelter are always provided and if communication with relatives or friends shows such a course to be expedient, fare is provided to help the individual reach assistance from those who should provide it.

Clothing and school supplies furnished through effort of the committee has made it possible for several local children to remain in school this year who otherwise probably would have been idle and subject to its dangers.

Two hospital cases have received attention and funds through the action of the committee.

"The scope of service rendered has been made much greater than would have been possible by the mere expenditure of funds allotted for charity and benevolence work due to the fact that the committee has enjoyed the cooperation of all leading physicians, civic and religious organizations, business concerns and many individuals," said Mrs. Brock, who has personally devoted much of her time to the administration of affairs involving the disbursement of funds and the securing of maximum service at minimum cost in cash allotted.

Christmas Boxes Sent Vets From Bryan Auxiliary

Many men in the U. S. V. B. Hospitals today are recalling the happiness brought to them last year by the members of the Texas American Legion Auxiliary on Christmas.

The Department of Texas is asked to care for only the men in Texas hospitals, each state caring for every man in the hospitals of each individual state. There are over 1000 men in the hospitals and under treatment in hospital centers in Texas, that the Auxiliary units home to remember this year. The hospital wards will be decorated and everything done to make the Christmas season happy.

Bryan unit has been assigned 18 Buddies confined in Wm. Beaumont Hospital at El Paso.

The task of selecting suitable gifts and preparing them for delivery was given to the rehabilitation committee composed of Mrs. C. L. Gray, chairman; Mrs. W. R. Wood, Mrs. Antone Krenke and Mrs. Joe Sosolik. These workers, with the assistance of Mrs. Harry Estill have the packages ready to mail. An attractively wrapped box was prepared for each veteran. These boxes contained cigarettes, chewing gum, talcum powder, a small manicure set, handkerchiefs, a deck of cards and a new dollar bill.

In addition to this the Bryan Auxiliary is preparing a Christmas box to be sent to their adopted veteran who is in the Veterans' Hospital at Legion, Texas. Members wishing to contribute a gift to this box will please call Mrs. C. L. Gray or Mrs. I. H. Bartz.

Marshall Peters of the Peters' Motor Co., Navasota, is in Bryan today on business and greeting friends.

7,000 Muskrats Taken in First 10 Days Trapping

ORANGE, Dec. 10.—Seven thousand muskrats fell victims to trappers operating in the East Cove division of the Orange-Cameron Land Company's gulf coast preserve during the first 10 days of the season. The seasonal quota for the division is 50,000 muskrats. Alford Stark, who has spent the last few years in the marsh areas making a study of animals typical to that section, is in charge of operations. Despite the fact that the trappers were wet from morning until night not a member of the crew had been ill, he said.

Christmas Plans For Bible Class Are Talked Over

The Lily Myers Bible Class of the First Baptist Sunday School held its regular business and social meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Clarence C. Vick on College Avenue, with Mrs. Roy Vick and Mrs. J. H. Conway as joint hostesses. The rooms were most attractive in a decoration of white chrysanthemums and ferns and with a background of youpon greenery and red berries, suggesting the approach of the Christmas season.

Mrs. W. C. Fountain, president, presided over the class business session during which reports for the past month and plans for the coming Christmaside were given. The social hour following the business session was most delightful and enjoyed by all present. The hostess passed a refreshment plate of candied apple pie with whipped cream, coffee and salted nuts. Besides the hostesses the following class members were present: Mesdames W. C. Fountain, H. L. Durham, August Anderson, J. G. Minkert, Henry S. Locke, P. S. Park, Will Wimberly, A. S. McSwain. Miss Frances Locke was present as an appreciated visitor.

Advertising Pays

Reports from France are to the effect that the decline in travel from this country has been so great this year—the amount of money left by American tourists being estimated as 20 percent less than expended last year—that the tourist industry and the government have been stirred to action. One of the results promised is an advertising campaign, stressing the many merits and attractive features of France for the benefit of the millions who have not yet visited the city on the Seine.

A considerable proportion of the tourist travel that benefitted France last year and before, this year appears to have gone to Germany, which has advertised for this business while France has not. Although there are other factors, such as the many taxes France imposes on strangers and the increased stability and contentment of the Germans and the publicity gained by the feats of the Graf Zeppelin and the Bremen, there is no question but that advertising has played a certain part in the increased tourist business. Shrewd Frenchmen would not be likely to expend money for this purpose unless they had excellent reason to believe that lack of publicity had cost them business.

We find other evidences, and on this side of the Atlantic, that it pays to advertise for tourist and vacation traffic. Cuba is growing rapidly in popularity as the winter playground of the rich of this country, taking somewhat from Florida which, in turn, cut into the business of California. Other points in the West Indies are being visited and are feeling the effect of efforts to popularize them. And in every case investigation will disclose a well planned advertising and publicity campaign to which must be credited at least a part of this sudden growth in the volume of visitors and traffic.

This ebb and flow in tourist travel, ebbing from points that do not advertise and keep everlastingly at it, to those that follow the opposite policy, is a direct check on the value of advertising. In this country we find other and innumerable instances of the value of consistent advertising. Commodities used in every day life have been put into millions of homes—have been made household words—by the power of advertising. When one sees thousands of dollars used to purchase a single page in a magazine, to advertise some article of common use that will retail for some ten or fifteen cents and realizes that this publicity has resulted in not only a national but an intensive distribution and sale, we must admit the power of printers ink when it is properly and judiciously used.

And what is true of Germany or of Cuba or of the manufacturer of some small item in common use, is true in some measure of every individual or company who has anything to sell the public. Advertising in the medium that will reach the largest number of prospects in the logical sales territory, coupled with attractive display and salesmanship will serve to move goods and bring about the much to be desired turnover when all other methods fail. But that advertising must be properly gauged, in relation to volume of business, and if business is based on quality of service rather than on price, then it must be consistent. The time is passed if, indeed, it ever was, when the world will wear a beaten track to the house of the man who makes the best mouse trap, even though he builds his home in the forest, unless he uses intensive methods to tell the world about it.

Good Cheer Drive Thursday

Thursday morning—tomorrow—men and women of Bryan will begin the canvass of the city in the interest of the Bryan and Brazos County Good Cheer Association, which estimates its needs for the coming year at $2,000. A committee of men, working under the direction of H. O. Ferguson, chairman of the finance committee, will canvass the business houses while four committees of women, named by Mrs. J. L. Brock, president of the association, will visit the residence sections of the city, which has been divided into four divisions for this purpose.

The association, in its annual report made recently, showed that it had expected this year a sum slightly larger than was collected in the drive made in December, 1928. The demands for relief are becoming both more numerous and heavier, according to officials of the Good Cheer, and there is no question, they state, of the need for a larger fund than ever before has been raised if Bryan is to live up to the reputation established in late years of helping the needy and alleviating distress within its borders.

The men and women who are in charge of the drive, as well as those who are in active charge of the work of the association, appeal to the charitable men and women of Bryan for heavy contributions to this fund. The work of soliciting is not always a pleasant one, but is accepted as a duty that is imposed by the obligation of the more fortunate citizens of Bryan to care for those in need or distress, and it is hoped that their effort to raise the money deemed necessary to continue unhampered the work of the organization will be met with a ready and a liberal response.

Joseph R. Grundy, expert in boosting tariff rates for the benefit of the manufacturers of his home state, is held largely responsible for the increases thus far planned which, it is estimated, will increase the profits of these manufacturers to the tune of $1,186,000,000. So long as he can be this effective why send him to the senate where he may be just one of the boys, instead of the high priest of protection and the most valuable collector of campaign funds the G. O. P. ever has known.

The senate may figure it is helping the farmer by hiking the duty on wool from 24 to 30 cents per pound, but they're liable to have him kicking, in conjunction with his city brethren, when the price of that new suit reflects the increased duty.

The right or wrong of the disbarment proceedings against Judge Ben Lindsey is open to argument, just as is his theory of companionate marriage. And there is just about as much chance of settling one as another—by argument.

MANY STATE—

governor, is virtually certain to ask re-election following his appointment to the place left vacant by the resignation of Attorney General Claude Pollard. The trio of aspirants are Representative Cecil Storey of Vernon, J. V. Allred of Wichita Falls, who was runner-up when Pollard was elected three years ago, and Joe Burkett of San Antonio. Burkett was formerly a state senator and a member of the highway commission during the Ferguson regime.

It seems certain that J. H. Walker, commissioner of the general land office, received appointment to the place at the hands of Governor Moody after the death of the veteran commissioner, J. T. Robinson, will be returned to that office without opposition.

There are three aspirants for the office of commissioner of agriculture. George B. Terrell, who has held that office for several terms, announced that he would not be a candidate this time. Those who have announced are Representative A. H. King of Throckmorton, J. J. Olsen of Yoakum and E. L. Covey of Goree.

Ed Christian of San Antonio is the only announced candidate for state treasurer. W. Gregory Hatcher, incumbent, will seek the governorship, being one of the nine candidates for the chief executive's chair now occupied by Dan Moody who may seek a third term. R. B. Walthall, chairman of the board of control, is considering running for treasurer but has not decided, he said.

S. M. N. Marrs has announced his candidacy for re-election to the state superintendency of public instruction. He will likely have some opposition, since he has been opposed almost regularly ever since he entered the office.

Sam Houston Terrell's friends say he will be a candidate for re-election, and former Gov. Pat M. Neff is expected to be a candidate for the railroad commission, although his name persists in hobnobbing in discussions of the governorship. He was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Clarence E. Gilmore, whose term expires in January, 1931.

Just to keep the data intact for convenience of the voters, the list of gubernatorial candidates, all of whom have announced formally follows in the order of their entrance: Oscar F. Holcombe of Houston, E. G. Senter of Dallas, Thomas B. Love of Dallas, Miss Katie Daffan of Ennis, Barry Miller of Dallas, T. N. Mauritz of Canada, W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas, Charlton Brown of Mineral Wells and James Young of Kaufman.

AID MISSION FUND

The Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist church of Bryan, observing a week of prayer for foreign missions, made a cash donation at the close of the week to the Lottie Moon fund, for foreign missions of $150. The Baptist women of the Southland have set the mark of $225,000 for foreign missions this year and Texas women's part of that amount is $45,000.

LAMESA, Dec. 11.—Total cotton ginnings in three lower South Plains counties are 55,900 bales to date. These figures were obtained from county weighers in each county. Dawson county has ginned 21,400 bales, Lynn 18,800 and Scurry 15,700.

New Truck Line To Bring Bryan Valley Produce

Rapid truck service to provide Bryan merchants with fruit and vegetables from the Rio Grande Valley not more than 24 hours after the produce has been gathered, has been started here by R. R. (Bob) Connor who will make headquarters in the Saladiner store on Bryan Avenue.

According to Mr. Connor, a fleet of four heavy trucks will be employed and six loads will be brought in here each week, on the basis of two trips of three trucks each. The valley headquarters of the company is located at Donna where it has its own packing sheds and only grade A produce will be handled, according to Mr. Connor.

A feature of the service rendered will be specially packed boxes of valley fruits for Christmas shoppers which will be sold generally and not alone through the retail stores of the city.

The company also plans to supply Navasota and Hearne merchants. T. A. Gossett of the company will have charge of buying and grading at Donna, while Mr. Connor will have charge at this end of the line.

CATTLEMEN NOW PLAN TO MEET AT UVALDE

(By Associated Press) UVALDE, Dec. 11.—The officers and executive committee of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association will meet in quarterly session here next Saturday.

T. D. Hobart of Pampa, president of the association, will preside at the business session.

Opening of First Cream Route May Sometime Be Celebrated as Notable Day in History of Brazos County

BY NELL BENTLEY

Bryan and Brazos county should have declared a holiday and celebrated on December 9th and there would be no great surprise to many of us, in say 10 years from now, if that date is given recognition as a red letter day in the history of this community. Like all other movements that have been responsible for great economic growth, the event that promises to mean much to future development here passed quietly and almost unnoticed and probably will not be recognized as of special worth for some time to come. It might even fail to reach a degree of importance for the very want of recognition and support.

We refer to the fact that a cream collection route was put into operation, serving patrons in three important farming sections of Brazos county on that date. Equally as important as the opening of a cream route, was the organization of a county dairy association with the objective of carrying on educational work and solving through mutual effort and cooperation the many problems that confront farmers today in the matter of adopting a diversified farm program that will give the farm family a steady and dependable income throughout the year and assure a fair return on labor and money invested in farm operation and crop production.

The volume of milk and cream brought in by the truck on its initial day's run was comparatively small, yet if the history of the venture here runs true to form, as shown elsewhere, it will increase from month to month and if the income received by patrons of this route proves satisfactory, more and more cows will be the next move while feeds, feeding, housing, breeding and other factors in profitable dairy farming will become common topics of conversation among farmers here as well as among those interested in the industrial development and prosperity of this section.

The route as now operating started with a patronage of some 10 families and is caring for the production from about 35 cows. The market provided for these patrons at the A. and M. College creamery, opened at 45 cents for sour cream and 55 cents for sweet cream in order to keep the cost of delivery service in keeping with the volume of business until production increases, the route is to be operated twice weekly.

Not only farmers but business men and those interested in rural educational problems will watch with interest and concern the progress of the milk route as well as the activities of the county dairy association.

Today, Oktibbeha county, Mississippi is known throughout the dairy breeding world as the home of high producing dairy cows and high grade dairy breeding stock and the name Starkville is synonymous with farm prosperity and dairy marketing. Six years ago, farmers in the Starkville region were up against about the same problems that are confronting Brazos county today; their cotton yields were so low that something had to be done. Dairy farming was the way they chose as a solution to their problem, and it proved successful.

What has been true of Oktibbeha county in Mississippi has also been true in numbers of localities throughout the old South, in Tennessee, in Kentucky, in Alabama and in sections of Louisiana. Without exception, the outstanding development has taken place in sections where cotton has for generations been the money crop and in every case there has been need for heroic effort in the matter of working out satisfactory systems of finance and helping farmers who knew nothing of dairy management to acquire the fundamentals of feeding and breeding while they were in the process of transition from cotton and credit to cotton, cows and cash.

We need not go out of Texas to find examples of success from similar beginnings. Swisher county, Hale county, Potter county, Wichita county, McLennan county, Harrison county, Hays county, Bexar county and Fayette county are just some of the leaders in the movement of dairy development in our own state.

Out in the plains section where a wheat failure ten years ago meant that numbers of farms would be abandoned and whole families by the score would move away to other states or other sections of Texas, today, dairy cows, poultry, hogs and sheep are furnishing an income other than that realized from the wheat crop and this year's record yield of 45,000-000 bushels of wheat in what we commonly call the Panhandle of Texas swelled bank accounts in every town and hamlet and has left farming and business interests in that section "sitting pretty" in the slang of the day.

West Texas farmers did not quit wheat when they turned to dairying and other livestock phases in their farm program. They are on the contrary, actually increasing the acreage of wheat from year to year. They are using better seed, better tillage methods and raise feed crops and livestock with the wheat in such a way as to make every acre pay a maximum return in crop yields, pasture, and fertilizer returned to the soil.

Semi-monthly pay checks for products sold, herds with a high sale value either as producers or as breeding stock, turning feed crops into money through the sale of products or the animals, increased value to farm lands through the growing of soil building rather than soil exhausting crops, are some of the advantages to the farmer which follow a balanced farm program that includes livestock, feed crops, and cash crops which bring an income well distributed throughout the year.

Brazos county will not quit cotton because its farmers are getting interested in dairy farming, poultry raising and other lines of livestock raising. But if Brazos county farmers ever see a day when they have been able to live throughout the year from the income of a dairy herd, a flock of chickens and a few hogs or sheep, whatever they realize from the sale of cotton at the end of the year will mean more than a mere cancellation of some mortgage notes that have to be resigned again before January 1 in order to secure the means of planting and cultivating another crop.

We have made the start. How long and how far are we going to travel the way to better things and farm prosperity?

CREAM ROUTE NO. 1 OPENED THIS MORNING

FARMERS CONTRIBUTE TOTAL OF 102 POUNDS ON FIRST TRIP

On the initial collection trip over cream route No. 1—the first organized effort made in Brazos county to collect and deliver cream to a creamery or depot—102 pounds of sweet and sour cream were collected this morning and delivered to the creamery at A. & M. College. The sweet cream brought 55 cents per pound and the sour cream 45 cents.

Six farm homes along the route had cream ready for the collection truck this morning. They were those of Luther Holligan, 10 pounds; C. P. Powers, 31 pounds; Seab Keith, 18 pounds; Henry Klentworth, 13 pounds; Fritz Rahner, 10 pounds; August Schmidt, 20 pounds.

The route, counting the total number of miles in the loop, measures 54 miles and taps the communities of Steep Hollow, Reliance, Kurten, Fickey and Prospect.

The truck making the collection is furnished by the Yeager-Edge Hardware Company, which is operating on a cost basis, and was accompanied by County Agent C. L. Beason, who has organized the route with the aid of interested farmers in the territory covered.

Ft. Worth Woman Seriously Hurt In Motor Crash

Losing control of their car Sunday about noon, while on the road between Bryan and Hearne, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Walker of Fort Worth were injured, Mrs. Walker seriously, when the machine left the road and turned over.

Report from a Bryan hospital this morning was to the effect that Mrs. Walker was able to be up but that Mrs. Walker, suffering from a fractured skull, seemed better than she was yesterday. The outcome of her injury cannot yet be determined, it was said.

The accident happened as the result of a blowout, according to reports at the hospital, after which the car got out of control and left the highway. Mr. and Mrs. Walker were brought to Bryan by a passing motorist.

START APPEAL ON THURSDAY; $2000 SOUGHT

Residence Section Is Divided Into Four Divisions

MEN TO VISIT STORES

Greater Demand Than Ever Expected For Relief

Plans practically have been completed, according to Mrs. J. L. Brock, president of the Bryan and Brazos County Good Cheer Association, and H. O. Ferguson, chairman of the finance committee, for the annual drive for funds to support the work of the organization during the coming year. The drive will start Thursday and both business and residence sections will be canvassed.

The officials of the Good Cheer, after going over the work of last year and anticipating as carefully as possible the demand that may be expected for the coming year, have set their goal at $2,000. While this is a larger amount than has been collected in past years, it is believed that the demand on the funds of the organization will be heavier than ever before on account of conditions in the city and county following a short crop and comparatively low prices for cotton. Indications pointing to this heavier demand already have been noted, it is said, and to assure the work being carried on without interruption or let down the fund of $2,000 is deemed absolutely necessary.

Judge Ferguson named the committees to canvass the business section last week and this morning Mrs. Brock announced the women who will canvass the residence section of the city, which has been divided into four divisions, northeast, northwest, southeast, and southwest. The committees for each are as follows:

Northeast: Mrs. Horace Dancy, chairman; Mesdames Thurston Cole, Lamar Bethea, M. P. Vance, Ethel Edmonds, Hugo Lenz, Locke McNeely, J. W. Riley, W. B. Cline, Miss Alice Burtis.

Northwest: Mrs. W. W. Daup, chairman; Mesdames Helen Swift, T. K. Lawrence, Mit Parker, J. P. Dohney, Tyler Haswell.

Southeast: Mrs. Joe Batts, chairman; Mesdames W. S. Howell, T. W. Burns, Cliff Harris, D. Mike, Ed Crenshaw, J. B. Priddy, H. L. Durham, Victor Edge, L. H. Tucker, Henry Rohde Jr., J. E. Austin, Webb Howell, R. H. Harrison, N. N. Snapp, J. M. Ferguson, Geo. Halsell, Kay Halsell, J. H. Nash, Roland Nunn, G. W. Orms, E. R. Alexander, Glenn Hardy Newton, Will McCulloch, A. M. Waldrop, J. W. James, Josie Lawrence, John Smith, Marcus Holleman, Milton Nail, Will Higgins, C. L. Eden, Geo. Smith, N. R. Newton, Mollie Robertson, E. F. Parks, Harvey Fender, Sam Cavitt, Roy Stone, Clarence Vick, P. S. Park, W. C. Mitchell, W. L. Goodlow, Roy Solomon, E. B. Elliott, Tom Higgs.

Southwest: Mrs. R. W. Persons, chairman; Mesdames D. W. Fagan, J. L. Edge, O. A. Ashworth, J. E. Brown, A. S. Ware.

Judge Ferguson announced this morning that Dr. Luther Jones of College Station had been placed in charge of the canvass and that he would organize for that work in time to get started Thursday.

CLUB COUNCIL MISSES GIRLS FROM TEXAS

34 BOYS EXCITE ATTENTION, AND AROUSE PRIDE OF MEN IN CHARGE

"There was never a moment that our hearts were not swelled with pride in those thirty-four Texas boys," said George W. Johnson this morning, but he felt his crestfallen when one man of prominence observed that Texas sent no girls to the National 4-H Club Council in Chicago and with a note of sarcasm asked, "Isn't Texas growing some girls fine enough to send up here?"

Mr. Johnson, district agent with the Texas Extension Service, N. Holmgren, poultry specialists with the Extension Service and Alphonse Habarta, BfzOs count 4-H Club boy, returned on Sunday from Chicago where they had been attending the annual National 4-H Club council. Johnson an Holmgren were officially in charge of the 34 4-H Club boys of Texas who were awarded trips to the club council by the Santa Fe Railway and other concerns operating in Texas. Fred J. Dinar, who is connected with the Santa Fe offices in Galveston, represented the railroad in providing for the transportation and comfort of the boys who were guests of the Santa Fe for the trip.

"The Texas group was distinguished by '10-gallon' hats an arm bands, which the boys wore throughout their stay in Chicago. 'Not a boy missed his train, lost his purse or his tie or failed to report for a meeting during our whole trip,' said Mr. Johnson and Alphonse Habarta compare favorably in every way with the boys from other sections of the state."

"The boys from Texas acquitted themselves in a manner above criticism in every way," said Mr. Johnson, "but Texas was conspicuous in its lack of girls in the council and in the fact that they have no Boys' and Girls' Club leader in our state."

The significance of the National 4-H Club Council cannot be over estimated in its influence on the farm boys and girls of America, the opinion of Mr. Johnson, who feels that the inspiration of contact with such men as Alexander Legge and other leaders of thought and action in the field of national affairs today will be reflected in a leadership that will be of inestimable value to our agriculture of the coming decades.

W. B. Story, president of the Santa Fe system was another man of prominence and influence who sat at the banquet table with boys and girls from every section of the United States and enjoyed the wholesome fellowship of his young guests throughout the council session. Practically all of the big railroad systems of the United States as well as other big commercial concerns interested in farm prosperity and development had representatives among those who mingled with the boys and girls throughout their stay in Chicago.

Catholic Women Told Sunday of National Meeting

The National Council of Catholic Women held a district meeting in Bryan this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's Catholic church. Mrs. H. B. McDowell, president of this district, presided and Miss Katie Daly acted as secretary-treasurer.

The meeting in Bryan was largely attended, with representative present from West, Mexico, Cameron, Caldwell, Hearne, Calver and Lyons.

Former Resident Paid Honor by Houston Rotary

Mrs. Murray A. Miller of Houston who before her marriage was Miss Annie Belle Batte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Batte of Bryan, has been honored by the Houston Rotary Club in being chosen the chief speaker at the annual Rotary meeting for two years in succession.

Mrs. Miller spoke at the annual meeting of the club Thursday of last week. The Houston Chronicle says of Mrs. Miller:

"A gracious soft-voiced woman clad in violet velvet shared interest of Rotarians at the Thursday luncheon along with President-Elect Ortiz Rubio of Mexico. Mrs. Miller, a woman of charm and pleasing personality was introduced by the Rev. E. P. West, pastor of the Second Baptist church, to speak on 'The Business of Being a Friend.'"

Her message was so full of interest and heart thoughts, and given in so forceful and impressive a manner, that when she finished her talk, the entire assemblage of several hundred arose and spontaneous applause lasted for several minutes. President Evans of Houston Rotary broke in on the applause to present Mrs. Miller with a huge basket of flowers which graced the speaker's table as a tribute from the club.

Bryan is always proud of her sons and daughters who go out into the world and make for themselves places of honor and usefulness, and the praise and appreciation Mrs. Miller receives from her new made friends in Houston, echoes again in the hearts of her many friends in Bryan, her childhood home.

Commissioner Walker of Austin Pays Bryan Visit

There is not yet much of a definite nature to say on the political situation in Texas, according to Land Commissioner J. H. Walker, who with Mrs. Walker spent the week-end in Bryan on a visit to their son, Mr. and Mrs. Mills P. Walker and family.

Jim Walker, as he is familiarly known to his friends throughout Texas, is one of the best versed men, if not the best, on the political history of the state. Quiet and gentle, he doesn't make much of a roar, but when it comes to real facts Mr. Walker has a store house of information.

Mr. Walker will be a candidate to succeed himself as Land Commissioner in the democratic primaries and it is not thought that he will have an opponent. Walker was appointed by Gov. Dan Moody to fill out the unexpired term of J. T. Robinson, who died last August.

Bryan Junction Man Reads Eagle At Holiday Rate

Among the first to take advantage of the holiday rate on the Bryan Weekly Eagle, was E. P. Leak of the Bryan Junction section in the Brazos Valley.

Mr. Leak is farming 66 acres of land and during the past season produced 9 bales of cotton and raised corn and sorghum feed enough to keep his work stock pretty well through the winter and a flock of good chickens.

"We do not sell much butter or eggs," said Mr. Leak, "but our three cows and our chickens keep our table well supplied with butter, milk, eggs and chicken meat and that helps out a lot."

BRYAN PHYSICIAN PAID HONOR BY TEXAS MASON

The name of Dr. C. A. Searcy of Bryan appears among the list of appointments made by Grand Master H. F. Lively at the close of the annual session of the Grand lodge of A. F. and A. M. held in Waco this week.

Dr. Searcy will serve during the ensuing year as district deputy in District 30 of which Brazos Union Lodge No. 189 is a part. There are 119 districts in the State of Texas.

BRYAN DEER HUNTERS ON TRIP FAIL TO BAG GAME

Roy Vick, S. C. Hoyle and Dr. C. A. Searcy returned to Bryan on Monday evening after spending some ten days in Live Oak county as members of a hunting party of seven. Four bucks were the bag for the party but none of the Bryan nimrods were lucky shots.

Other members of the party enjoyed by these Bryan men included, Dr. Jones of Hempstead, Gabe Lewis of San Antonio, Fred Ashford of Whitsett and Fred Klatenhoff of Los Angeles.

Teachers in Bryan Schools Sponsor Extra-Curricula Work; Pupils Get Chance at More Liberal Education

Bryan public school system, in addition to the regular class instruction given by the school teachers, fosters extra-curricula activities, which are sponsored by the teachers, with possibilities for more liberal education, which the public schools of Bryan seek to give to each student, according to Superintendent Harry L. Durham.

Each student in Bryan public schools is urged to enter some one of these activities sponsored by the system; the selection of the activity being entirely elective on the part of the student. While a student may enter more than one of these activities, the practice is discouraged, because it is better to do one thing well than two things half well.

Proper care for the children of Texas, insuring the younger and coming generations a start in life with sound bodies and native intelligence, increased facilities for the care of men disabled in the World War, now steadily increasing in number, and no profit in war but the drafting of money and property as well as of men, were three primary objectives of the American Legion, as outlined by Ernest Cox, state commander of the organization last night.

Commander Cox spoke at the annual meeting of the Earl Graham Post, No. 159, of Bryan, at which officers recently elected were installed by him. The meeting was held in the ball room of the LaSalle Hotel and dinner was served at 8 o'clock.

The program for the entire evening was of interest to the more than one hundred men and women present. Music was furnished by the Bryan Municipal Band and short talks made by a number of guests.

The new officers installed are: M. M. Erskine, commander; Ed S. Martin, vice commander; H. M. Second, chaplain; Ed J. Blazek, finance officer; John Patronek, sergeant at arms; Ed Dobrovolsky, color sergeant; Hy T. Schovajsa, service officer; E. W. Crenshaw Jr., adjutant.

The officers who were retired last night are: H. S. Estill, commander; John S. Caldwell, vice commander; Jesse Thomson, chaplain; L. A. Spell, finance officer; C. J. Nelson, sergeant at arms; Luke Patronek, color sergeant; O. A. Ashworth, service officer; H. T. Doward, adjutant.

The address by Commander Cox, frequently applauded, was in part as follows:

The American Legion is essentially a service organization. Its membership is composed of men and women who gave service during the World War. Its loyalty and sincerity of purpose have stood the supreme test of all, the willingness to sacrifice. America had confidence in us then, in that defense of democracy and the right of self-determination. We believe that America has that same confidence in us now as we fight during these years of peace, in behalf of the purity and permanency of this country of ours. Our program is on such a plane.

In Texas this year you advocate the codification of all state laws relating to Texas children, necessary amendments to bring them up to date and finally the creation of a child welfare department. As Texas citizens we recognize the children of this state as its greatest asset. We, therefore, believe in the interest of good government and self-supporting, law abiding citizenship, that Texas tax payers should offer the best advantages to their children.

The American Legion is not a political organization interested in partisan principles or any certain candidate for political office. However, believing as we do in good government and sound citizenship, we urge every Texas citizen to exercise his right and vote. The American Legion doesn't care in what party or for what candidate the vote is cast just so the ballot is intelligently and solidly used. We have confidence in the ultimate good judgment of our citizens when they vote. The great menace we face is the failure of the majority to exercise that right.

We request the aid of all Texas citizens in joining forces with the American Legion for the increasing list of disabled veterans, being discovered year by year. These fellows, suffering from infirmities incurred in war, are direct casualties as truly as those that died outright on the battlefield. America is a grateful nation and should give these buddies an opportunity to become cured and assume their rightful place in society as self-supporting citizens.

The United States as the greatest preparedness plan and at the same time the greatest guarantee of peace, the Universal Service Measure. Congress this winter will again be asked to take steps that will not only place all man power of this country at the disposal of the president, in case of war, but industry, the factory and the American dollar as well. There should be no profit in war so prices should be regulated also. Every able bodied man, within age limits should be available and every man's property should be at the country's disposal. The dollar as well as the blood of men should share equally in the sacrifice because war is a gigantic sacrifice. Universal service would therefore place all resources at the country's disposal as a means of preparedness and by taking evasion of duty and profit making away guarantee peace as long as selfish motives sway mankind.

Reports of the affairs of the post were made by Adjutant H. T. Doward and Finance Officer L. A. Spell which showed the organization in good condition.

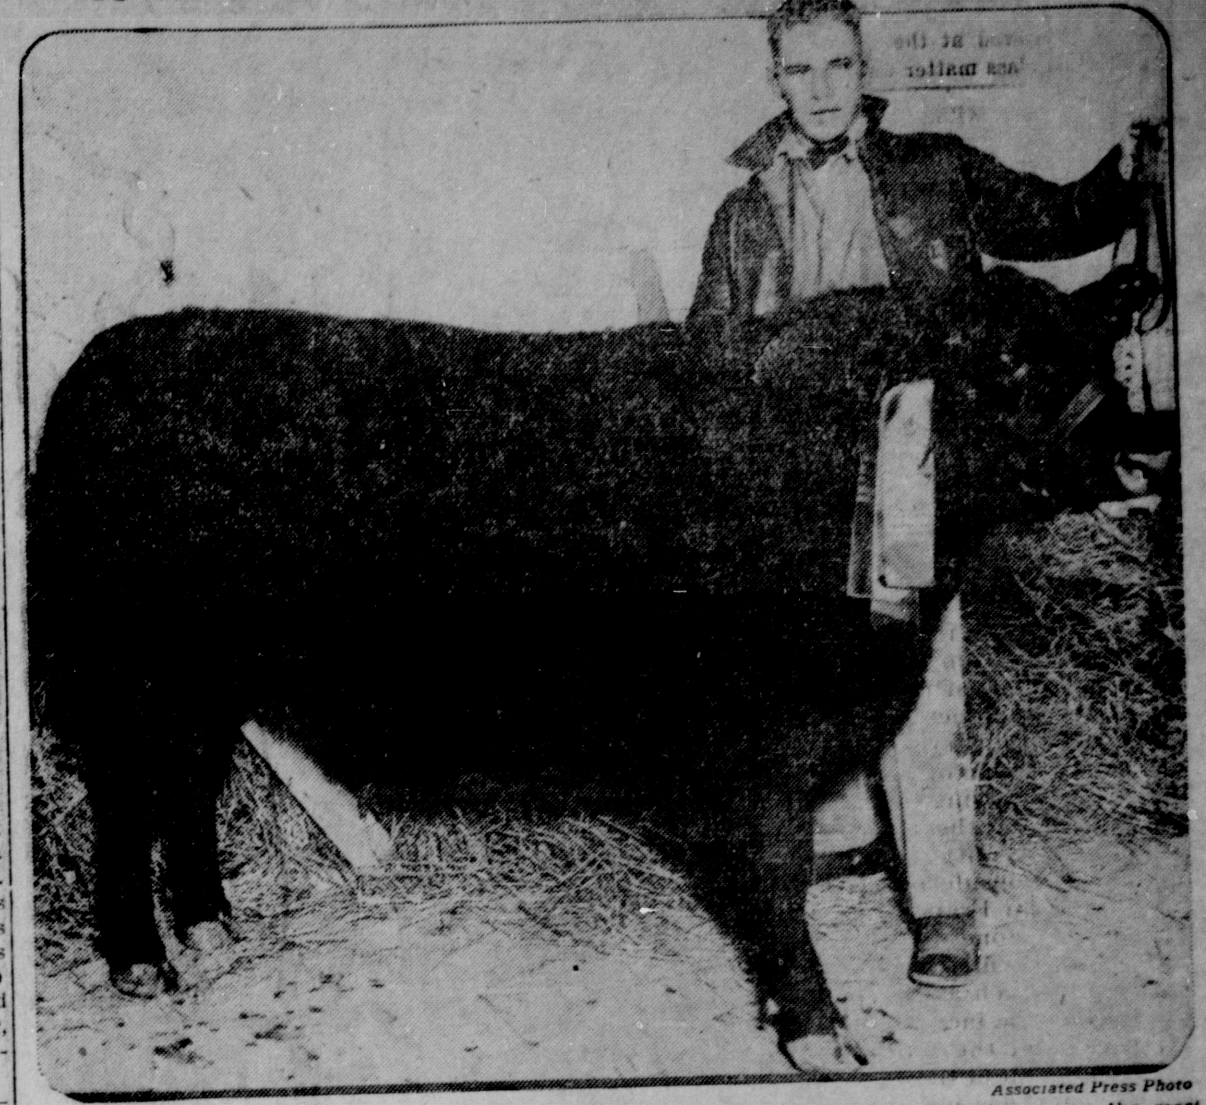

Members of the Woman's Auxiliary put on a comedy skit that earned many laughs.

Short talks were made by F. J. Pietsch, commander, J. I. Moore, adjutant, E. R. Vaughan, historian, Louis Whately, finance officer and W. T. Cox, all of John Webber Post No. 459 of Calvert. Van Perkins, 6th district committeeman, and H. B. McClellan of the Edwin Hardy Post No. 9, of Cameron, and C. Fontana, lieutenant of artillery in the Italian army, all made interesting talks. Walter Armstrong of Tabor, Mrs. Lee J. Rountree and S. E. Eberstadt also were called on.

Harry Estill, commander, presided and introduced the speaker of the evening and expressed his appreciation for the co-operation and support that had been given him by the members of the organization. In accepting the gavel and leadership for the coming year, M. M. Erskine pledged his loyalty and faithfulness to the organization in an impressive talk.

The members of the band, directed by Henry S. Locke and Tom Sweeney, were as follows: Tom Sweeney, director; Frank Nedbalek, cornet; Calvin Terrell, violin; Henry S. Locke, saxophone; Bill Sebesta, saxophone; C. J. Janick, bass; Lewis Nedbalek, trom-

Christensen reports that military honors were accorded to young Losey by members of the R. O. T. C. corps of the Louisville high school and that his popularity there was attested by the wealth of floral offerings banked about Losey's casket.

The court said it would be glad to consider again the matter of a county library at the end of the present fiscal year, which will be April 1, 1930. If unusually good tax collections are made, and a considerable amount of delinquent taxes collected, the court is hopeful that by the beginning of another school term some plan can be made to finance the proposed county public library.

The members of the court voiced their regret that the county is not able to finance the library at present, and trust that the public and especially those most interested in the project will realize that this answer to the petition was reached only after most careful consideration.

• Our • Standard • of • Living •

Thousands of years ago men and women dwelt in caves. The women and children huddled together while the men went out with spear and hatchet to secure that primal want of all mankind—FOOD.

This food was the raw flesh of wild animals: clothing, wild animal's skins. Comfort, as we know it, was then unknown. Safety for self and family was dependent upon the skill to kill.

The only law was the law of might. The strong survived—the weak and sick perished.

Gradually, through the ages, man's standard of living improved, until today the standard of living the world over is higher than any time since the dawn of history and people of the United States have more of the comforts and luxuries of living than the people of any other country.

We, of the United States, are blessed with greater prosperity, greater pleasure, luxury and more conveniences than any other group of people in the history of mankind.

America abounds with opportunity for study, safe and healthful work—the kind of work that leaves the worker with enough leisure for recuperation and recreation—time to partake of the joy of living.

Working conditions are better than in any other country. Not only are working conditions better and hours of labor shorter, but most important of all, our workers enjoy an opportunity to earn sufficient income to meet the cost of the highest standards of living in all human history.

During the last score of years the income of the average family has more than doubled. This has resulted in allowing most of us to enjoy comforts and pleasures that our fathers could but dream of.

But there are still those among us who have failed to prosper in like proportion. There are families whose annual income is below that necessary to properly raise their children—our future citizens. It is our duty to our community to furnish these wage earners with the opportunity of earning a sufficient income to maintain the average standard of living. General employment at high wages is the heart of our prosperity.

One method of creating this opportunity of service to others is to foster home industry—promote our community's welfare—enjoy the highest standard of living possible to each one of us individually.

This page is presented by the undersigned in the interest of this community's welfare. We gratefully acknowledge our debt to our customers and clients who are enabling us to earn a livelihood in this community and dedicate ourselves and our interests to the raising of the standard of living
